SOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK

TF GOV. HUGHES IS REELECTED ALL TRACKS WILL CLOSE.

This Is the Policy of the Jockey Club, the Members of Which Are Waiting for Developments-If Oral Wagers Can Be Recorded Sport Will Be Saved.

It is an accepted fact among turfmen that if Gov. Hughes is reelected every track operating under the jurisdiction of the lockey Club in the State of New York will pe closed next year and perhaps for al time Since the enactment of the new betting law the tracks have been kept as usual, but all of them have lost heavily.

Gravesend, for instance, is losing about $3,000 a day and probably will quit all of $40,000 behind on the present meeting of twelve days.

It is conceded that if the racetrack mangers believed there was no chance to bring ne game back to something like its old popularity they would have shut up shop immediately after the Agnew-Hart bill passed the Legislature. A man who has iong been identified with affairs of the Jockey Club and who knows the inner workings from A to Z went over the situation with THE SUN's turf writer yesterday in

"The Jockey Club has been waiting for developments, and there will be action one way or the other right after election day If Gov. Hughes is reelected not a track will be open for the next two years, if ever again. I have always maintained that once the gates were closed they could never be reopened, as was the case when the game was killed in New Jersey.

would be folly to attempt to race with Gov. Hughes in Albany, for there would not be a chance to get new legislation or anything else that m ight clear up the present muddle. If Mr. Chanler is elected, however, there may be some reewed hope, not because Mr. Chanler is ledged to sign a racetrack bill, but because e present law may be enforced without persecution. I cannot say just what the plans of the Jockey Club are in the event of Mr. Chanier's election, but I'll admit that if they are successful racing will surwive the present crisis. It is senseless to believe, however, that racing under the present conditions can With whispered oral bets among handful of regulars permitted by court cisions the general public is shut out itogether. That means small gate re-cipts and heavy financial losses for all the tracks. It also means that even if the urses were reduced to a minimum the ame would not pay, because the crowds ould be no better than they are at present. while the rich men of the turf would withdraw their patronage and support.

the courts and many points in dispute where we stand, but even then the tracks will not be able to stand the strain of paying out thousands of dollars with nothing com-

"There is just one thing that will save law or a decision by the Court of Appeals will legalize the recording of an oral If that can be brought about betting will be established and the mblic can have a chance to enjoy the sport on modified lines. We do not expect to ever see the open gambling of former days stored. There can never be stools, ates, cash boxes, displayed odds and the handling of money. That was book making in the strict meaning of the word. But oral wagers are different. They are simply bets of honor between friends which can be ttled or not, just as one's conscience may

"If such private transactions can be re

money for the fun of it. That policy has been part of the plan which was framed moment the anti-betting bill passed. The track owners think there is a future for the sport if Gov. Hughes is beaten, but otherwise the gates will be closed and thoroughbred racing here will be at an

At Gravesend last Saturday there was a crowd of nearly 9,000 persons. But of that number perhaps one-half paid for badges. The receipts may have reached $5,000, roughly estimated. In added money the Brooklyn Jockey Club paid out nearly $5,000. Salaries of officials, Pinkertons, helpers, advertising and other items probably footed up $2,000 more, which let the track out with a slight profit on the day. But if the rich stakes of last year had not been cut 65 per cent, in value a heavy loss would have been entailed.

It is generally admitted that even under more favorable conditions-if they should exist next year-all stakes would be cut 50 per cent, in value, while many of the richest prizes would be wiped out altogether. For this reason it is believed that many turimen who can afford the expense will race in England or France. Already August Belmont, H. P. Whitney, John E. Madden, H. B. Duryea, James R. Keene and others have made arrangements to race abroad, although they say that they have no idea of abandoning the turf in this country. Still they will keep some great horses away from here, which will have a tendency to cheapen the class of racers that may remain.

Only a few days ago Mr. Keene, speaking as vice-chairman of the Jockey Club, declared that there was no plan on foot to reorganize that body and that there would be no change in the officers. From Mr. convinced that August Belmont will remain sharman of the Jockey Club. Though Mr. Belmont returned from Europe ten days ago given out an interview as to the present condition of the sport. Because of his silence horsemen have come to the conthat Mr. Belmont, like other members of the Jockey Club, is waiting for developments. Perhaps when the scene shifts to Belmont Park the Jockey Club's chairman will have something to say, in which event there will be much interest.

In running the Gravesend meeting re-gardless of loss P. J. Dwyer has come to be regarded as one of the pillars of the sport. Horsemen say that his liberality and pluck never will be forgotten. His determina-tion to enforce the law and at the same time to permit patrons of the track to enjoy privileges granted by three court decisions has made a hit with racegoers to such an extent that the crowds are larger each day.

This method of conducting a race meeting is in striking contrast with the policy of the Coney Island Jockey Club, which almost killed patronage and cost nearly $150,000 in ten days. In taking over the Brighton fall dates and abolishing the autumn meeting at Aqueduct Mr. Dwyer simply races six instead of nine days at his Que ens county track. The lopping off of three days evidently was good policy, for the reason that Aqueduct is not so easily reached

The shift to Aqueduct will be made next Monday and speculation will go on under the present conditions. Aqueduct will be under the supervision of the Police De-partment, which is enforcing the law but of doubt. It was reported some time ago that the Westchester Racing Association would prohibit even oral speculation and vould keep out all persons known as forme bookmakers. No official denial was made, yet horsemen are inclined to believe that the report was unfounded, for they say, if such drastic measures were resorted to wouldn't be enough people at the track to

There should be some good racing at Gravesend to-day. The feature is a handicap at a mile and a sixteenth, with the Whitney entry, Brookdale Nymph and Royal Tourist, in possible favor over Spooner, Far West and Tourenne. In another handicap, for all ages, at about six furlongs, Besom, Peter Quince and Tom McGrath may be the factors. For the Brookwood Steeplechase, at about two miles, Economy, Waterspeed and Pirate may go well. In the third race, for two-year-olds, at five and a half furlongs, Wise Mason, the Whitney entry, County Fair and Field Daisy, and Detective look the best. In the fifth race, at a mile and a furlong, Tileing, Monfort and Gretna Green have good chances. Maiden two year-old fiffies will run in the last race, at five and a half furlongs, with Tattling, Rosslare and Blue Grass perhaps the best.

OLD TIMERS ON SPEEDWAY. Ida Highwood Makes It Two Out of Three From Zealous.

Speedway rang to the hoof beats of the old timers yesterday morning. On the upper stretch were Nathan Straus behind Cobwebs, A. B. Gwathmey with Tiverton, John Cornish behind Tempus Fugit, Charles Straus driving Belton. Jr., Ackley C. Schuy-ler with Mona Wilkes, James A. Murphy behind Don Derby and John Maguire driving Cashier. After driving Cobwebs a few times over the stretch Mr. Straus got up ehind Ida Highwood. A series of brushe had been arranged between Mr. Straus's nare and F. R. Bain's mare Zealous.

It has been so long since Ida has entered n the Speed way contests that it was almost a new game to her yesterday, and a break after passing the quarter post gave a decided advantage to Zealous. Ida managed to make up part of the ground but was not able to reach even terms and the first heat went to Zealous by a safe margin. Ida got down to work when the two again measured strides and with one of her usual rushes at the finishing post managed to

"The Jockey Club has not been idle.

Every phase of the situation has been looked into and it is now simply a case of waiting to see who will be the next Governor of the State. Nobody believes for a moment that the tracks have been losing big ment that the tracks have been losing have the two mares rounded the turn at the series with speed to spare. Coast Marie came well to the front in the next two heats, but every inch of the ground was hotly contested and the mare found out that it was no easy matter to best Claro.

Ackley C. Schuyler drove Mona Wilkes to victory in one brush, defeating Hugh C. Rilley's bay mare Lucy after getting away with Lucy two lengths to the good. Belton, Jr., driven by his owner, Charles Straus, finished ahead of George Huber's Mary Pandit, and Mary in turn lowered the colors of Kavola. E. S. Brower's Pot Roast did some good work. Among the ones to concede defeat were S. B. Wolfe's Butterfly, H. B. Clarke's Gideon and Dr., Joseph Semon's Virginia Belie. Pot Roast met his Waterloo when he essayed to take the measure of Hugh Riley's Lucy, for the mare gave him a little more speed than he had bargained for and he had to be content with second place. Later in the day they finished neck and neck and the owners declared themselves satisfied with the verdict—a dead heat.

George Huber managed to wrest the

selves satisfied with the verdict—a dead heat.

George Huber managed to wrest the laurels from Pot Roast with his brown pacer Arnoid, and Dennis Herrington's Nancy Skuse in her turn forced Arnold into the ranks of the defeated. J. W. Smith, seated behind Ogden Smith, managed to take the measure of I. M. Thompson's Fancy Prince and little Barbara Smith was driven to victory over Nancy Skuse.

A series of brushes between Dr. Semon's Poco Estrella and S. B. Wolfe's Butterfly resulted in an even break. Butterfly was the winning factor in a couple of tilts with Fancy Prince. Edward Bottenus's Rose Electrite won two good brushes, defeating Poce Estrella and S. T. De Lee's Cordovette. Tom Maguire entered Cashier in only one brush, but this was a winning venture. He defeated Ogden Smith. F. W. Heinzer was on the drive behind Little Maud, and she had no difficulty in winning when she tried conclusions with Mary Pandit.

Otto Deimar was again the chief point inner at the games of the Morris Evening High School yesterday at Macomb's Dam Park. The Mohawk boy won the 600 yard run and the mile and a half race from scratch in creditable time. His point total this year has reached 40, and barring accident he will win the special trophy for the greatest number of points. The summaries:

THE FOOTBALL WORLD

SCRIMMAGING AND GAMES AT SEVERAL COLLEGES THIS WEEK.

The football season will quicken appreciably this week with a number of the elevens beginning their playing schedules Indians, who already have started their schedule, will play two more games this week, while Pennsylvania, Brown, Sfraothers have games booked for next Wednesday or Saturday. Harvard and Yale do not tackle an opponent until Wednesday week and Princeton and Cornell not until has been put in. In general the situation at a majority of the bigger colleges is this: There is a sufficient quantity of varsity material left over to form a fair working basis for the building up of a team, but yet a good deal of hammering to be done on the material which has not had varsity experience, but which, either on the freshman or scrub team, has had experience which under vigorous drilling is counted on to plug up vacancies in the varsity ranks. The Pennsylvania candidates have had one light scrimmage and at Harvard and Yale scrimmaging will begin this week. The coaches at these three places have not lost any time in getting together tentative elevens, and while they are not talking any about the outlook it will be noticed that there have not been any wails about dreadful weaknesses existing. These three and the other member of the so-called big four -Princeton-begin the season with pros-pects which, so far as producing a team up to the standard is concerned, are not at all discouraging.

And so far as can be foreseen so early in the season there is no great difference in the early season outlook. Cornell is not so well equipped at the outset, but will have the help of a fine coaching staff and the incentive of repeated disappointments to wipe out. There are a whole lot of new men at Carlisle, and new men will have to men at Carlisle, and new men will have to be depended on to a large extent there, but the Indians have a knack of finding somebody who quickly develops into variety form. West Point and Annapolis are setting the gridiron machine in motion with the usual absence of extensive publicity, but, just the salle, keeping pace with the times and getting a good idea of what they will have.

setting the gridiron machine in motion with the usual absence of extensive publicity, but, just the salie, keeping pace with the times and getting a good idea of what they will have.

There is a businesslike aspect to the coaching at Harvard this year. Haughton, the head coach, who was a first class player nimself and who has shown coaching ability since he left college, has a competent staff of assistants, one which is not likely to neglect any details in individual instruction. Capt. Burr, it is said, wants to go back to guard this year, and it is the general impression that he is a better guard than tackle. It will be difficult to find a centre as good as Grant of last year's eleven, but Nourse is promising, and if McKay, who is a physical giant and just the build for a ghysical giant and just the build for a ghysical giant and just the build for a ghysical with the position but can stand a deal of improvement to be the equal of some of the ackles who will face him. The freshman ends. Crowley and Corbett, are looming up as probabilities for the wings and the quarterback outlook is rather bright with G. Brown, Cutler and Sprague to choose from. There is plenty of material for the backfield, not above average quality as yet, and the situation in that department calls for some careful sifting. Versatility is a backfield requisite in the modern game, a combination that can realize the most on the possibilities of forward passing, onside kicking, punting and running methods of gaining ground.

The Vale line suitered big inroads by graduation, but with what is left, members of last year freshman team and players who weren't eligible last year. It looks as if a line of evenly balanced strength would be developed. Howard Jones and Alcott were two stars at the new game. If Capt. Burch can go through the season without getting smeared and laid up there is no reason why he shouldn't be able to take care of one of the ead positions in tiptop style. Logan, substitute last year, was not far from varsity calibre, while hop this is largely by comparison. Biglow was a tackle in a thousand. Yale, however, seldom fails to have first class tackles, and Hobbs, for one, is considered a first class man.

The hardest place to fill will be quarterback there is little doubt of that, and a good deal of faith seems to be placed in Tad Jones's ability to develop one. There is talk of Kilnatrick, the big freshman fullback, being tried there, but the coaches are not counting on that move at present. Bingham, at quarterback on the freshman feam year before last, has a good head and is capable of development. He isn't much at running back punts and there must be sometody in the backfield to do that. It doesn't necessarily have to be the quarterback and there are men in the Yale backfield who can run back punts. Coy is a fast and hard runner, and Hopkins, quarterback on the freshman team last season, is said to be a good runner in a broken field.

If Brides doesn't play again he will deprive the team of an exceptional defensive back and a line breaker. Kilpatrick, however, is a strong, hard runner and line borer and, like Coy, a good punter. Philbin is a silppery customer and gets through openings well. Then there are Wheaton, the drop kicker, and Murphy, a steady backfield man.

In the matter of quarterbacks Princeton is better fixed than any other team in the East. Capt. Eddie Dillon is the best on the gridiron this season at running back punts, and he is an experienced, dashing player. He is dangerous whenever he has the ball in his hands. The Tigers will have a hard time finding a man who can make dropicles and work the onside kick as Harlan did. But with McCrohan, a slashing line bucker who wasn't elegible last year and who is expected to fill McCormick's shoes, the veteran Tibbott, as well as Reed and Dawson, the Princeton backfield promises to be a hummer. There is good material for the line in Ruckingham, Waller, Siegling, Whaley, McFadyen, Welch and Dowd. To find a centre the equal of Phillips and ends of the Wister standard will be a prob

ITHACA. N. Y.. Sept. 20.—At the outset of the Cornell football season the coaching staff is confronted with two serious and unexpected losses, which in addition to the severe drain from last year's eleven make the prospects far from favorable. Langdon laboock of Rochester, who would have been a senior and was the most prominent candidate for right end, has left lthaca. Haboock's mother is ill and he says he will have to stay at home with her. Word also has reached here that Mowe, sub left half-back last year and slated for the position this fall, has announced that he would not be able to come back. Mowe was a fast ground gainer and a first class kicker.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 20.—The Yale coaches were gladdened to-night by the return of Arthur E. Brides, the only varsity player of two years experience. It was believed that the announcement of his marriage would prevent his return, but to morrow he will be at the field with the rest of the squad. Brides will go back into the line this year.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Sept. 20.—Football practice at Wesleyan will begin to-morrow on Andrus Field under the direction of Coach Reiter and Capt. A. It was hoped that the entering class would contain some good material, but this seems doubtful. One man in particular. Philadelphia in Chicago; Washington in St. Louis. Baseball Notes.

J. J. H.—Anson was manager of the New York Nationals for a short while in 1898. UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The New York State League season closed to-day, Scranton winning the pennant, with Binghamton in second place. MEMPHIS. Sept. 20.—Regardless of any games that might be protested. Nashville has a clear title to the Southern League pennant race, according to President Kavanaugh. There will be no more advance sales of seats for games at the Polo Grounds. Tickets for the remaining games will have to be purchased at the grounds on the day of the games. The change is made to keep tickets away from speculators.

THIS WEEK AT BALTUSROL.

Players Named for the Intercity Matches for the Lesley Cup-Outlook Bright for Women's Championship-Fox Hills Is to Have Women's Tournament.

Baltusrol will be the Mecca for golfers this week, and on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the course at Short Hills will be crowded with professional and amateur golfers. Aleck Ross, national open champion of 1907 and professional at the Brae Burn Country Club, Boston, was on the course yesterday and had a round with George Low, who holds the title. Gil Nicholis and Aleck Campbell, also from Boston clubs, will be on the course to-day The West will not be represented unles some straggler comes along, but the mid-South courses will send their candidate for the honor. The Columbia Golf Club of Washington will send the long driver George Turnbull to play for it, and Jack Campbell, champion of the Philadelphia golf league, and Donald Ball also are to play.

Besides Low the local aspirants will include Aleck Smith of Nassau and soon of Wykagyl, Jack Hutchinson of St. Andrews, H. H. Barker of Garden City, Isaac Mackie the big man at the annual field day of the Knights of Columbus of Newark yesterday. Dave Hunter of Essex county, John Hobens The sports were held at the Olympic Park of Englewood and many more. Will Nortrotting track and were a postponed fixture from August 22. The big man from who was too busy raking in money at the the Coast had a handicap of 20 feet and won latter course to go to the open championeasily with the actual distance of 162 feet ship, is also to play at Balturrol. He is 10 inches. The ground was down hill. is-dis-conditions at Garden City, the long driver has a distinct advantage, and as a conse quence the golf there is always of the boldest sort. Regarding amateurs who may Jerome D. Travers heads the list, and Charles H. Seely, the Metropolitan Golf Association amateur champion; Max Behr Marshall Whitlatch. a fine golfer who on account of one deep bunker failed to qualify at Garden City; George T. Brokaw, C. E. Van Vieck, Jr., and F. R. Upton, Jr., are sure to start.

Van Vieck, Jr., and F. R. Upton, Jr., are sure to start.

The executive committee of the Metropolitan Golf Association has appointed for the third year Walter J. Travis to be the captain of the home team in the intercity matches for the Lesley cup at Garden City on October 2 and 3. The committee has suggested that the players to make up the team, subject 'to 'Travis's veto, shall be Travis. Travers. Behr, Herreshoff, Douglas, Seely, Ward. A. Reid, Robbins. Brokaw. Chad Sawyer and Partridge. The last named was on the team at Merion two years ago. The players dropped from last year's makeup are Marshall Whitlatch. Robert Abbott. who is better than a half dozen of those selected, and Archibald Graham. The New York team never has been beaten for the Lesley cup and the record is not likely to be blurred this year.

H. H. Wilder, the Harvard senior, who but for an attack of cramps when, 8 up would have beaten Travis in the amateur championship, has been appointed captain of the Boston team, a signal honor for a college boy. Cossip at Garden City has it that the Bostonians to make up the team would include A. G. Lockwood, who although a resident of this city has not given up his membership in the Boston clubs; H. H. Wilder, J. G. Anderson, T. R. Fuller, the Massachusetts champion; P. W. Whittemore, W. C. Chick, Hugo R. Johnstone, J. G. Thorp, Andrew Carnegle 2d, T. M. Claffin, A. L. White, J. B. Hylan and possibly George H. Crocker and T. G. Stevenson.

W. P. Smith will be captain of the Philadelphia team which last year put out the final with New York. Those whom he is sure to ask to make up his fifteen, it is understood, will include W. T. West, if he is back in time from Europe Dr. Simon Carr, H. B. McFarland, A. W. Tillinghast, H. W. Perrin, R. E. Griscom, Wirt L. Thompson, R. E. Hansen, James Alcorn. William Pfell and A. H. Smith.

The college boys are to hold their annual championship at the Brae Burn Country Club during the week of October 6. Williams is a member this year, and before the tournament it is possible that some other New England colleges may be elected to the intercollegiate association, which comprises as charter members Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania. Emerson Knowles of Yale now holds the individual championship.

All's Grist That Comes to the Fighting

Dane's Mill.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Battling Nelson is writing a book which will give the story of his Hig mainly since he has been in the funor that Miss May Tatterton, the British ber and class of the entries. There is a rumor that Miss May Tatterton, the British champion, and Mrs. Cuthill, formerly Miss Rhona Adair, who was here in 1903, are to come over for the women's championship. The Western women already have arranged for a villa near the links for the week. Mrs. Charles T. Stout, Miss Frances C. Griscom and Miss Georgiana Bishop, former holder of the title, are to play, and also the Boston girls, Miss Margaret Curtis, the present, and Miss Harriot Curtis, the 1906, title-holder. Mrs. E. A. Manice will not enter, although she expects to be in the gallery. She has had appendicitis and does not feel strong enough as yet to again take up the strong enough as yet to again take up the clubs.

The Fairview Country Club this week will open its new eighteen hole course and clubhouse at Fernwood. All the goods and chattels have been removed from the old course at Tuckahoe. Fernwood is within a rife shot of the Knoilwood Country Club and the Century Country Club. Arrangements have been made with the Putnam branch of the New York Central Railroad to stop the trains at Fernwood, which will be a station between Elmsford and East View.

Arnaud Massy, British open champion of 1906, and Ben Sayers of Troon have arranged to make a tour in this country next year and to play in the American open championship.

At the Irish open championship at New-castle two weeks ago, and won by J. F. Mitchell, of Scotland, London Golf dis-covered an American who has been un-honored and unsung in this country. Says covered an American who has been unhonored and unsung in this country. Says that journal:

On Tuesday almost at dark D. Grant of Burlingham county. U. S. A., made his presence felt in the meeting by defeating on the twenty-second green F. B. Newett, the ex-irish Close champion. Mr. Grant is a young student and a tennis player who only occasionally turns to goif. A few months ago he came to England with a handleap of 5, and on one day of last week he defeated in succession A. R. Aitken (Prestwick) and E. E. Aphtory (Bedford). With the ald of four or five 3s and a stimy. Mr. Grant was 4 up on Mr. Aitken at the tenth. Thereafter the Scotch internationalist got many chances, but, weak in putting, failed to take them, and lost by a hole on the home green, where he falled to hole a five foot put to tie. Mr. Apthorp put up an even weaker fight, for he never got the same severo handling given to Mr. Aitken on the first haif. It was R. G. Graham (Lytham and St. Annes) who arrested the American's conquering career. Mr. Graham took his American cousin seriously and i up at the turn defeated him comfortably. Mr. Grant has an easy and powerful long game with either driver or iron; he puts by turn brilliantly and badly and he hasy et to learn the short game. America has in him splendid material out of which to fashion an American champion.

Champion.

ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 20.—The first round at match play for a cup offered by W. S. Pitcairn was played yesterday at the Essex County Country Club. Frederick C. Reynolds beat C. L. Black, 5 up and 4 to play; E. H. Earnshaw beat William M. van der Kieft, 1 up; J. L. Ward beat W. K. Fowler by default; Edwin W. Forrest beat Frank H. La Pierre, 4 up and 3 to play; John Daybeat J. S. T. Taylor by default; Manton B. Metcalf beat William B. Howells, 2 up.

Bockefeller Money to Spur on the Naps. CLEVELAND, Sept. 20.—If the Naps win the American League pennant this year Cleveland baseball enthusiasts, headed by Charles P. Salen, country clerk, and aided by John D. Rocketeller, expect to hand Napoleon Lajoie $1,000 and provide $500 for each of the other eight players who take part in the game that brings the much coveted pennant to Cleveland. To-day a movement was started to ask John D. Rocketeller to provide the $5,000 for the enterprise.

CLOSE SHAVE FOR DETROITS

HAVE A HARD TIME TO BEAT HIGHLANDERS.

New Yorks' New Pitcher Does Better Work Than Summers and Visitors Deserve to Win-Two Other Close Contests in the American League.

DETROIT, Sept. 20 .- To the unprejudiced observer New York lost to-day's game by bad decision by Umpire Evans in the eighth, when with the bases crowded and the squeeze play started he called Laporte out at first and Laporte was apparently safe by feet. Elberfeld kicked so hard over the decision that he was ejected from the

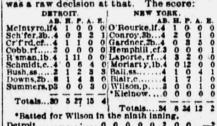

New Yorks' new left hand twirler, Wilson put it all over Summers and deserved to have his efforts crowned with success. The home team played like a lot of sand lubbers and did not deserve to win. Except in the third and fifth innings New York always had men on bases, while Detroit was blanked inning after inning.

New York's only run came in the second inning when Laporte singled through the box and took second on Bush's muff of box and took second on Bush's mull of Moriarty's fly. He came home on Blair's drive to right. Detroit's two came in the sixth on Ball's fumble of Crawford's hard grounder, a base on balls to Cobb and Rossman's single to right. Cobb scored the last run on Schmidt's out at first, making a great dash and slide to the plate, while Moriarty returned the ball a trifle too high for Blair to make the putout.

returned the ball a trifle too high for Biair to make the putout.

New York's eighth was exciting. With Wilson out O'Rourke singled and went to the third on Conroy's single, Conroy taking second on the return of the ball. Gardner fouled out and then Summers walked Hemphill. Evans's decision on Laporte stopped further scoring, and it was a raw decision at that. The score: NEW YORK

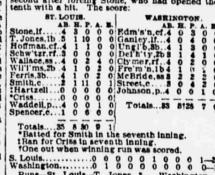

Runs—Detrolt—Crawford, 1; Cobb. 1. New York—Laporte. First base on balls—Off Summers, 1; off Wilson, 3. Struck out—By Summers, 4; by Wilson, 5. First base on errors—Detrolt, 1; New York, 3. CHICAGO Sept. 20.—Smith blanked the Athletics without a hit to-day and only two men reached first in the nine innings, one on a pass and one on a fumble by Isheli. Plank pitched fine until the ninth, when Isbell beat out a grounber toward first. A wild pitch sent him to second and a passed ball took him to third, anderson struck out. Davis was passed and Parent hit to Barr, Isbell beating the throw home.
